I found him, I would make a good detective.

He was expecting a payment of 6,000 for his efforts, though the drugs have an estimated street value of over 200,000 in Japan.

People with diabetes may need to adjust their medication to keep their blood sugar levels normal while they are following dietary restrictions.