"the pharmaceutical levels that are detected in drinking water supplies and in edible fish species' tissue are far below the normal daily dosage someone would take of that medicine"